WINTER RACING IN SWITZERLAND

(Correspondence of Associated Press) Gstaad, Switzerland, Feb. 16.—For the first time in Switzerland, horse races with sprinting competitions on the snow are being held at this famous winter resort in the Bernese Oberland. Forty horses have been running and there have been about 4,000 spectators at most of the events. Swiss cavalry officers rode most of the winners.

DEMOCRATS ARE FOR REPEAL OF DRY ACT

TRENTON, N. J., March 3.—The democratic state convention declared in favor of a plank in the platform to be adopted by the democratic national convention for "restoration of personal liberty and for repeal of the prohibition amendment and for rights of the states to legislate upon prohibition."

The state committee pledged itself to the support of such a plank. It is with narrow-necked bottles—the less they have in them the more noise they make in pouring out.

NEW STATE ROAD IN GOOD SHAPE

R. E. Savage, resident engineer of the Nevada highway commission, is getting the new state road between Tonopah and McKinney's Tanks in good shape. A White truck is engaged hauling rock from the Hall fox dump and the material is being laid in a fine filled with good wearing surface. The road comes from the deep workings of the mine and slacks sufficiently with exposure to make an excellent binder for filling the hollows as it is a dense stone that will stand lots of wear. The truck hauls from three to four yards of a 1000. The state is steadily working over the surface and drivers are urged to make general use as the surface gives a perfect grade for the entire distance which enables drivers of motor trucks to travel with out skidding gears. As soon as the surface is perfected the state will put on a couple of turnouts.

VALUABLE FOX KILLED.

The capture of a pair of foxes on Lake Tahoe shores by Reno parties so far has proven an expensive experiment. Early this winter one of the foxes escaped and has never been seen since. Last week a spee and fox made his escape from the enclosure and was caught and killed by a trapper at Emerald Bay. The two foxes were worth close to $2000.

You may have observed that of road deal of the inside information finally was outside.

SCHOOL TALENT GIVES OPERETTA

News has just leaked out of a musical treat in store for the people of Tonopah. After a half year of hard work with the pupils of both grade and high schools in Tonopah, Mrs. Mary Townsend Holson, the supervisor of music, decided that she had in the schools plenty of talent and that the people of the town should have an opportunity to hear the young folks. She began preparation of the Mother Goose operetta and now has it ready for presentation. The latter theatre has been engaged for the occasion and the date of presentation set for Friday evening, March 12. More than a hundred young people will take part in the operetta and it is by far the most elaborate affair attempted by the public schools in many years.

ART STUDENT HANGS SELF.

BOULDER, Colo., March 2.—The body of Louis G. Hensworth of Tulsa, Okla., was found in his room today at a boarding house suspended from the bedpost with a trunk strap around his neck. He was an art student and had been brooding over ill health, companion students at the state university said.

The stormy winter weather sometimes lasts all day. It is caused by the particles of snow suspended in the air.

PHILADELPHIA, March 3.—John

diegan, coach of the University of Pennsylvania football team, favors the proposal to substitute a certain number of plays for a certain period of time to determine the length of football games.

"It is a good rule," he said, "and would eliminate the old evil of stalling. I do not know offhand how the details would be worked out, but Pennsylvania's representatives should be instructed to support the proposal at the annual meeting of the rules committee in New York next month."

It also might be a good thing to consider the coming to give four points for balls lost within five yards of the opponent's goal line, three points inside the ten-yard line and two points inside the 20-yard line. This would be for the games where one team distinctly outplayed the other.

Dr. Carl Williams, for several years Pennsylvania's representative on the rules committee, while admitting the plan to regulate the length of football games by plays instead of time had some good points and was not as unqualified in his support as Coach Hensman.

"It has been suggested many times at meetings of the rules committee," he said, "but as far as I am concerned, I never have been in favor of it. It has many advantages, although it probably would call for another official. It is a practical way of working, it can be found in some of the best things for the game, but it is one of those suggestions that needs considerable discussion before an opinion should be formed."

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2. A team that may win for the United States the early football championship at the Olympic games is being organized on the Pacific coast. Its members will be the Stanford-California teams, which invaded British Columbia during the Christmas holidays and defeated three all-star teams and one from the United States at British Columbia. The games were played in Vancouver and Victoria, regarded as the strongest rugby centers of Canada.

It Wilfred Maloney, Stanford trainer and coach for the American army men in the allied games, in France last year lists the following as prospective members of the team for the Olympic games.

Tom Carroll, Stanford, winner of the Olympic medal with the American team at London in 1908, member in the world famous "Wall to Wall" and "Waratah" Australian teams, played on Oxford University, England.

R. L. Templeton, Stanford, one of the finest players in the world. Slater, Tilden and McKim, Palo Alto, Cal. and Stanford's seven forwards and backs.

John and William Muldown, University of Santa Clara, the latter played with London football club during the war and was American in the allied nations.

James White, Stanford, member of the Australian "Wall to Wall" and "Waratah" teams, played on Oxford University, England.

Arthur J. Thompson, San Francisco, member of the "Wall to Wall" and "Waratah" teams, played on Oxford University, England.
